

Boudiccas Rebellion

My name is Boudicca I am a Queen and I live in South East England.

I was in a battle with the Romans because after my husband died and me and my daughters got hurt because of the Romans, they then tried to make us pay taxes. So me and the other Celts started a battle.

I defeated lots of people and destroyed lots of towns. So I carried on marching and kept fighting.

A slave called Aileen escaped and joined me in battle. We did very good in battle but unfortunately we lost and many Celts died.

Most of the Romans were happy and we all carried on life normally .

Aileen was a slave again Paulinus was a Roman Governor again and Drest was a farmer again

And I was put to jail or executed.

Extra Info: Did you know that Colchester used to be the capital of England before London!

Letter to Friend (Wind in the Willows)

Dear friend,

Today I saw a mole in my garden. He had brown fur with a long nose.

He was very friendly and very hard working. He told me he had spent all day spring cleaning his home.

He asked me what I was having for lunch! I said I haven't had my lunch yet. I said would you like to join me and he said "Yes please"! I said Ok and went to make us a cheese sandwich.

He was very nice and he made me feel very happy that I had made a new friend.

Best wishes,

Daisy.
